Bio4Dreams lands in the United States with B+labs

Thanks to an agreement with B+labs, Bio4Dreams will have its first physical space in the United States, which will be a bridge and a gateway overseas for the entire startup network.

Bio4Dreams has signed an agreement with B+labs to have a dedicated office in Philadelphia, which represents the sixth largest Life Sciences market in the United States.

After the partnership in 2021 with the Pennsylvania Biotechnology Center (PABC), this agreement with B+labs continues and strengthens the US positioning of Bio4Dreams in the field of innovation in Life Sciences.

Indeed, it represents a bridge for the European startups of Bio4Dreams' network interested in expanding their business and relationships overseas, as well as an opportunity for American industrial and financial stakeholders interested in having a first view on projects coming from the old continent.

“Our presence in the United States, and in particular in Pennsylvania, is strategic for Bio4Dreams' development, which aims to increasingly act as a point of reference for innovative Life Sciences projects that, from the ecosystem of Southeast Europe, want to enter the American market.

Fabio Bianco, Chief Scientific Officer, Bio4Dreams

“B+labs is excited to be a part of Bio4Dreams' expansion and increased activity in the United States and in the greater Philadelphia region. The mission of both organizations is well aligned and dedicated to advancing promising innovative companies in the Life Science sector. The B+labs and Bio4Dreams relationship gives both parties bidirectional access to sector and geography-specific expertise, capital, and resources critical to determining growth and success.”

Matthew Burkhardt, Director of B+labs

Bio4Dreams S.p.A. is an entirely privately funded incubator certified by the Ministry of Economic Development and fully dedicated to very early-stage innovative startups in Life Sciences. The company is focused on value creation starting from scientifically innovative entrepreneurial ideas that could improve people's quality of life, with the support of a broad and established network of national and international partners from the research, finance, and enterprise world.

B+labs is the new incubator for Life Sciences in Philadelphia. It was born from the collaboration between Brandywine Realty Trust, one of the leading real estate investment trusts in the United States, and the Pennsylvania Biotechnology Center (PABC), among the most important incubators for Life Sciences in the United States.

B+labs offers a space fully dedicated to startup, early-stage, and well-established research, innovation, and collaboration companies operating in the field of Life Sciences. Opened in January 2022, the B+labs space is already at full capacity and hosts key players in the sector.

Located in the Cira Centre in Philadelphia, B+labs boasts a strategic position-closely connected to the main universities in Philadelphia, such as the University of Pennsylvania, Drexel University, University of the Sciences, and Children's Hospital of Philadelphia.
